Famine

Sinead O'Connor

Okay, I want to talk about Ireland Specifically I want to talk about the 'Famine'

About the fact that there never really was one

There was no 'Famine'See Irish people were only allowed to eat potatoes

All of the other food, meat, fish, vegetables

Were shipped out of the country under armed guard

To England while the Irish people starvedAnd then on the middle of all this

They gave us money not to teach our children Irish

And so we lost our history

And this is what I think is still hurting meSee, we're like a child that's been battered Has to drive itself out of it's head because it's frightened

Still feels all the painful feelings

But they lose contact with the memoryAnd this leads to massive self-destruction Alcoholism, drug addiction

All desperate attempts at running

And in it's worst form becomes actual killingAnd if there ever is gonna be healing

There has to be remembering and then grieving

So that there then can be forgiving

There has to be knowledge and understanding All the lonely people

Where do they all come from? An American army regulation

Says you mustn't kill more than ten percent of a nation

'Cause to do so causes permanent 'psychological damage'

It's not permanent but they didn't know that Anyway, during the supposed 'Famine

We lost a lot more than ten percent of our nation

Through deaths on land or on ships of emigration

But what finally broke us was not starvation

But it's use in the controlling of our educationSchool go on about 'Black '47'

On and on about 'The Terrible Famine'

But what they don't say is in truth

There really never was one(Excuse me)

All the lonely people

(I'm sorry, excuse me)

Where do they all come from (That I can tell you in one word)

All the lonely people

Where do they all belong? So let's take a look, shall we?

The highest statistics of child abuse in the EEC

And we say we're a Christian country

But we've lost contact with our historySee we used to worship God as a mother We're suffering from Post Traumatic Stress Disorder

Look at all our old men in the pubs

Look at all our young people on drugsWe used to worship God as a mother

Now look at what we're doing to each other

We've even made killers of ourselves

The most child-like trusting people in the UniverseAnd this is what's wrong with us

Our history books the parent figures lied to us

I see the Irish as a race like a child

That got itself bashed in the faceAnd if there ever is gonna be healing

There has to be remembering and then grieving

So that there, then can be forgiving

There has to be knowledge and understanding All the lonely people?

Where do they all come from

All the lonely people

Where do they all come from? We stand on the brink of a great achievement In this Ireland there is no solution to be found

To our disagreements by shooting each other

There is no real invader hereWe are all Irish in all our different kinds of ways

We must not, now or ever in the future

Show anything to each other

Except tolerance, forbearance and neighborly loveBecause of our tradition

Everyone here knows how he is

And what God expects him to do
