Cruising

Gylepomp

Lyrics: j perkinCruising, my head rests on your chest
Cruising, we've been loving too fast
We drive into the night, till we are out of sight
Till twilight and dust is all that's left of usCruising, we're close but not in touch
Sighing, you say that we are lost
But still we carry on, knowing that something's wrong
Our dreams will disappear, love will be settled in tears
Till twilight and dust is all that's left of usWe are lost
The desert stretches out before us
We are lostCruising, crying
You have to understand, these things go hand in hand
Our dreams have disappeared, our eyes are full of tearsTwilight and dust is all that's left of us
That's all that's left of us
Nothing's left of love
