

I'm Tired

Bernard Butler

I'm tired, I can't explain
All troubled notions scrambling my brain
I'm tired, let me be for nowWas a time when I was interested by you
But it isn't now
If only I could escape leave a dummy in my place
Slip away through the walls not listen at allI'm tired, I can't explain
I may as well have been talking to myself
By the look on your faceI'm high, I don't feel myself, I think I should feel happy
But I only want to lie down
If only I could escape leave a dummy in my place
Slip away through the walls not listen at allI'm tired, I might go away
I'm tired, I've no more to say
I'm tired, I'm tired
So take me, take me away
