Silhouette

Mark Diamond

Honey where you running
You're always in front of the pack.
Honey where you hiding
I've been losing sight of the past.

I miss you, where'd you go
I think about it sometimes
And I think you should know
That I loved you, and don't forget
Picture the memories we shared,
Perfect Silhouette

I miss all the long drives
Getting lost with you by my side.
It never was a worry, never in a hurry
To get you home at night.
And now I'm telling stories
Just to feel you once more on my lips.
But words are kind of boring
Can't take it no more, I miss

I miss you, where'd you go
I think about it sometimes
And I think you should know
That I loved you, and don't forget
Picture the memories we shared,
Perfect Silhouette

Your long brown hair would blow in the wind.
Now baby I start to forget
Everything that I once knew
But I still have that picture you drew.
I keep it safe here on my desk
I'd throw it away but it's all I got left of you

I miss you, where'd you go
I think about it sometimes
And I think you should know
That I loved you, and don't forget
Picture the memories we shared,

Perfect Silhouette
