

Last Raindrop

Fitz & The Tantrums

Seconds move as fast as the hours do
In between the world I don't have with you
Here in all the miles that we used to share
My heart is still there

If you found some other love than me
It would tear this one completely
Will you still need me?
How will we carry on and on and on

Now that winter's falling
All of the color's gone
When the summer stops
With the beat of my heart, my heart
Days pass by
Fade all the clouds apart
Last raindrop
With the beat of my heart, my heart

Strike away the fears hidden around in me
They're eating up the truth of our memory
Keep in mind the words so they don't give way
That's what we both say

All I really want is for you to say
Somehow, somehow
That you'll never give up and slip away
