

Slimcea Girl

Mono

(Coming with me!)As she walked down the street
The rain began to fall
He called out, but she passed on by
Like she never noticed him at allThen the words of a song
Remind her of those days
Sees herself in the face of a stranger
Sat in the station road cafeShe remembers the day
When things were going her way
Only memories remain
Of the way she used to be
The way she used to beShe stay home every night
And exaggerates her past
Now he knows that the Slimcea Girl
And she lives alone in Prozac ParkAll the old photographs
Were never thrown away
She looks through them for what made her cry
Then she decides live for todayShe remembers the day
When things were going her way
Only memories remain
Of the way she used to be
The way she used to be(Why don't you come with me?
I'll come with you!)The way she used to be
Way she used to beShe'll never go back again
The way she used to be
Way she used to beShe'll never go back again
Hum
