The Only Way (is The Wrong Way)

Did you think that I'd disappear?
Did you think that I'd wash away?
Did you think that I'd last this long?
Did you think that I'd get this strong?Everytime they try to make me change
They just wear me down with more chainsAnd it feels like
That you with me or against me
And it feels like
That your promises are all mine
And it feels like
That to push me is to shove me
And it feels like
That the only way is the wrong wayDid you think that I'd could be your cruch
Did you think that life could mean so much
Did you think that this could end in birth?
Did you think that this was just plain old luckAnd everytime that try to make me change
That just wear me down with more chainsAnd it feels like
That you with me or against me
And it feels like
That your promises are all mine
And it feels like
That to push me is to shove me
And it feels like
That the only way is the wrong wayEverytime they try to make me change
They just wear me down with more chainsAnd it feels like
That you with me or against me
And it feels like
That your promises are all mine
And it feels like
That to push me is to shove me
And it feels like
That the only way is the wrong wayAnd it feels like
That the only way is the wrong way
And it feels like
That the only way is the wrong way
The only way is the wrong way
The only way is the wrong way
