Second Chance

Joey Barnes

I fell in love
And once was hard enough
Now it's got me on my knees again
I can't get up

Well you tried to be
Someone there for me
And now I feel the walls are closing in
You could not see

That it bothered me
The thought that you might be
The one with whom I make a new start
I said to myself
I should seek some help
But I froze up and fell apart

Now I can't move on
All I feel is wrong
A heart just needs a little time to mend
I pray it wont be long

Still it worried me
The thought that I may be
The one who you are dreaming of
I called your machine
I know it's obscene
But I froze up and fell apart

It bothered me the thought that you might be
The one with whom I make a new start
I said to myself
I should seek some help
But I froze up and fell apart

Oh yes it worried me
The thought that I may be
The one who you are dreaming of
I called your machine
I know it's obscene

I froze up and fell apart

Oh, yes it bothered me the thought that you might be
The one with whom I make a new start
I said to myself
I should seek some help
But I froze up and fell apart

I called your machine, I know it's obscene

I froze up and fell apart
I froze up and fell apart
Yes I froze up and fell ... (in love)
