Up on the Downside

Ocean Colour Scene

This England made me between the war and a rockets flying
You found the crib that saves me and teach me wrong and right
Then the world was talking, it never got its chance to say
When there's too much talking, nobody hears the words you sayYou won't see baby now I want you
These blind communications only last throughout the year
And half of what we're saying is halfway in a truth
And blind communications for a million hearts and foolsI am a witness to a land of a million fools
All placing bets on life then hate the ones you lose
And all the lonely never get the chance to say
That their one and only would be the chance to even playYou won't see baby now I want you
These blind communications only last throughout the year
And half of what we're saying is halfway in a truth
And blind communications for a million hearts and foolsHello Monday the week is just a blur
I've been burning bridges and now I'm begging at your door
So I keep on working 'cause it's a chance for me to pay
But too much talking when you believe the words I sayYou won't see baby now I want you
These blind communications only last throughout the year
And half of what we're saying is halfway in a truth
And blind communications for a million hearts and fools
