Lostprophets

Say goodbye to you but it always dies
It's taken a back to, so whatcha gonna do now
But you've got until sundown
Don't look too good, don't look too bright
Got it all but wanna fight So how you gonna feel now?
But you've got until sundown
Step in the car, it's time to go
You want it back, you fell off track
A thousand knives left in my back Protecting me, such an irony
And I told you once, I'd never leave
And all I do, and all I've seen, I drove (I don't want your explanations now, it doesn't work)
So tell me why it all revolves around you
(I got it, I got it, I got it)
And I know in time what I must do
(I got it, I got it, I got it) Now I know it's time for us to fade
Say what's awful, want it all today, now Say what's wrong with you?
Got too much on your mind
And you just don't know where you're going So how are you gonna feel now?
But you got until sundown
Don't look too good, don't look too bright
Got it all and wanna fight
So how you gonna feel now But you got until sundown
Step in the car, it's time to go
You want it back, you still attack
A thousand knives left in my back Protecting me, such an irony
And I told you once, I'd never leave
And all I do, and all I see, I drove (I don't want your explanations now, it doesn't work)
So tell me why it all revolves around you
(I got it, I got it, I got it)
And in time I know what I must do
(I got it, I got it, I got it) Now I know it's time for us to fade
Say what's awful, want it all today, now I feel fine now, it's my time now
I feel fine now, it's my time now
(Break it down)
