

The Hardest Part

Rich O'Toole

Used to think I had it all figured out
No worries, no bank account
Used to fly by the seat in my tent
No direction no set of plans

I first laid my eyes on you
Realized there's more gotta do

Gotta get job, need a better ride
Drink a little less, on a Friday night
Should I buy a suit? I ain't got a clue
Tell me baby what the hell I gotta do
Cos the hardest part is getting in your heart

Now I didn't used to being asked where I've been Tuesday night , I was out with my friends
All I needed was a bottle of Michelle
Didn't worry bout taking care of myself
Now when I looked into your eyes,
See the man, am I disguised?

Gotta open doors, need to take a hint,
Gotta learn the ways to be a better man
Complimenting shoes , I ain't got a clue
Tell me babe what the hell I gotta to do

Cos the hardest part is getting in your heart
Is getting in your heart

You said I've gone crazy
Now you think of those days
Well whiskey have learned
I see your face and I

Glad I got a job, Glad I'm better up
Drink little less on a Friday night
Now I got a suit, still ain't got a clue
Tell me baby what the hell I gotta do

Cos the hardest part is staying in your heart

I said the hardest part , is staying in your heart
Is staying in your heart

Lyrics Submitted by nandoky

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>