

Crystal Ball

The April Maze

Dont know if its politics or big fat lies but somethings changed in your eyes and I can see the world through you youre like a crystal ball you wonder why the skys gone grey and all the birds have flown away I can see the change in you thats changed us allJumpin leaps and bounds from day to day Ive seen her grow as she finds her way
and I can see the world through you youre my crystal ball the sky has changed from grey to blue the birds are back singing nursery tunes and I can see the change in you thats changed us all you could change the world, if you can change yourself
