

No Distance Left to Run

Blur

It's over, you don't need to tell me
Hope you're with someone who makes you
Feel safe when you're sleeping tonight
I won't kill myself trying to stay in your life
I got no distance left to run When you see me please turn your back and walk away
I don't want to see you 'cause I know the dreams that you keep
That's where we meet
When your coming down think of me here
I got no distance left to run It's over, I knew it would end this way
I hope you're with someone who makes you feel that this life is the life
One who settles down stays around spends more time with you
I got no distance left to run Coming home with me
So home
Come on
Home
