We Are But Falling Leaves

Sentenced

Think of your lifetime as one day
It's fading away
The shadows are growing long
Think of existence as a flame
That as rainstorm clouds they ride along? At last see? if our flames will cease
Eternally, unavoidably
Eventually all paths will lead
To the cemeteryWe are but falling leaves in the air hovering down
On our way we are spinning around
Scattered fragments of time
Like beams of the light we are
That's all we areThink of your lifetime as one year
Look autumn is here
Getting colder, the winter's impending
Your conclusions throwing me, certain ?is tear?
Yet is only the circles unending? At last see? if our flames will cease
Eternally, unavoidably
Eventually, all paths will lead to the cemetery
To the prior deceasedWe are but falling leaves in the air hovering down on our way we will hit the ground
Scattered fragments of time
Like beams of the light we are Just when we realize that we are alive, we die.
