Name Of The Game

Cheap Trick

Someone conceived me, no one believes me
A fluke in the night of obscurity
Played by millions simulcast by a few
A city, no lights, such a great view
It's all very strange, it's the name of the game, I wanna know
It's all the same, it's never gonna change
It's the name of the game
And it's over and over and over again
Time after time after time
Over and over and over again
Love is the name of the game
Come around and see me analyze or analogy
I'll give you a clue what you really need
If things get bad then things can get worse
Remember surrender, remember the verse
It's all very strange, it's the name of the game, I wanna know
It's all the same, it's never gonna change
It's the name of the game
And it's over and over and over again
Time after time after time
Over and over and over again
Love is the name of the game, yeah
I say, hold on tight
Say, hey you're doin' it right
As I wish for a full dream flight
Night after night I'm a knight
It's all the same, it's never gonna change
It's the name of the game
And it's over and over and over again
Time after time after time
Over and over and over again
Love is the name of the game
Over and over and over and over
And over and over again
Over and over and over again
Love is the name of the game
Over and over and over again
Time after time after time
Over and over and over again

Love is the name of the game
And then it came to me, it's just a game to me
Love is the name of the game
And then it came to me, it's just a game to me
Love is the name of the game
And then it came to me, it's just a game to me
Love is the name of the game
And then it came to me, it's just a game to me
Love is the name of the game
And then it came to me, it's just a game to me
Love is the name of the game
And then it came to me, it's just a game to me
Love is the name of the game
