Osker

Heartbroken, I watched the rain beat on the sidewalk
Complete with gray skies and headlights
And puddles on the sidewalk
Everyone's ruined like me It's weird now and then I look back
Each day spent careful, is still consumed over time
I think it's worse to be aware
And know this change, than to go on every day, unknowing I'm having trouble with realizations
Why does it have to be a regretful mess?
If I could have one day back now
I swear I'd use it well Ohh, 13, where did you go?
You're gone when I needed you the most
I know that from here it's downhill
Make the best of a A people change, yeah, and that can be good
I liked it that way, why did you stray?
Ohh, maybe I'm unhealthy
Ohh, won't you stop and stay frozen in time with me? I'm having trouble with realizations
Why does it have to be a regretful mess?
If I could have one day back now
I swear I'd use it well Ohh, 13, where did you go?
You're gone when I needed you the most
I know that from here it's downhill
Make the best of a slow death I'm having trouble with realizations
Why does it have to be a regretful mess?
If I could have one day back now
I swear I'd use it well Ohh, 13, where did you go?
You're gone when I needed you the most
I know that from here it's downhill
Make the best of a Ohh, 13, where did you go?
You're gone when I needed you the most
I know that from here it's downhill
Make the best of a slow death
