Friends

Donna Summer

In our childhoods days together we would play people said we were inseparable Like a brother then my protective friend he would always take good care of me Friends that's what we are just friends no more or less oh here we are sharing so much fun friends why can't he see that I want him to be more than my friend Years have come and gone still our friendship's strong now he's more than just the boy next door

I'm in love with him guess I've always been he doesn't know he's all I'm living for Friends that's all we are just friends so near yet so far from love and oh the joy that he can bring friends why can't he see that I want him
to be more than my friend I'd like to tell him that I need him bad but I'm afraid if I do I might lose the only friend that I have Friends that's all we are just friends so near yet so far from love and thus we'll always remain friends friends why can't he see that I want us to be more than just friends
