

Hometown

Andy Burrows

He's got his walls and his ways waves are gone, he has his days has a lot on his mind too bad He's only happy if he's sad has his cannons which he fires the only boy I know can't cry. I can see the ground I can't see you and see our hometown I can't see you leave the lights on when I'll go so I can watch you down below. Has his loss been his loss there were bridges he had to cross we have bridges that we burn and had so much we had to learn. He has his cannons which he fires the only boy I know can't cry I can see the ground I can't see you
leave the lights on when I'll go so I can watch you down below. The only boy I know can't cry I can see the ground I can't see you and see our hometown I can't see you
leave the lights on when I'll go so I can watch you down below.
