

Run Free

Rebecca Ferguson

i used to know a girl, who had a dream her head full of ambition, her heart filled with pain walking the same walk, seeing the same faces wishing she could, trade placesmaybe i could fly away, she'd say even though time's moved on, i still feel the sameand i wanna be happy and i wanna find my way
and i wanna run free and i wanna fly awayevery good thing comes at a price sometimes you just gotta melt the ice it's not a question of when, just how after all this time, i've foundthat i wanna be happy
and i wanna fly awayi wanna be happy
and i wanna fly awayit may take time to find my feet you'll get there sometime, they say to mebut i wanna be happy
and i wanna fly awayi'm gonna be happy
and i, i'm gonna run free, and i, i'm gonna fly away [repeat]
