

Pretend Not to Feel Right

Black City

When you scream, when you run, just to get away
Make sure you never will regret, either night or day
I will never be there, never ease your fail again
I did the best that I could do, just to make it spin
Break the walls you used, not to let me in
You used every opportunity to drive yourself insane

Why do you hide
Why do you not try to realize
That you are not a girl, to compromise
And why should I
Let you try to realize
That I am not the man for you
Pretend not to feel right

Your restless heart is double-talking
All against your will
Your strict rules are getting bendy, and I'll wait until
The time will come,
When I have to save your gorgeous ass again
Who am I to judge your doings
You just do as you please
You know the laugh is on me, cause i freeze
I let you use me and I melt,
When you smile and call me friend

Lyrics submitted by Anders Petersen.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>