

I Should Of

Pretenders

If I'd known then
If only I had known
What, where or when
I would of kept you on the phone
Hindsight is tough
It's so obvious
Never enough for the two of us I would of tried a little harder
I would have cried a little louder
I would have lied with more aplomb
I, I, I, I, I, I, I should have known When we made love
Sometimes it was great
Just once or twice
I would have called it second rate
Anyway the days passed by in peace
I never thought
You needed more release I should of tried a little harder
I, I should have cried a little louder
I should have lied with more aplomb
I, I, I, I, I, I, I should have known If I had, if, if, if
(If I'd known then)
I should have, I should have
(I would of kept you on the phone)
I could have, I could have
(The days passed by in peace)
Oh fuck, I really miss you
I really miss you I should have tried a little harder
I, I should have cried a whole lot louder
I, I should have lied with more aplomb
I, I, if only I, I should have known
