Going In Blind

P.O.D.

One day

Some dayThis life's not like you wanted it

His eyes, I can see again, I need you here

In your mind, nobody's listening

It's alright not to feel again, just breathe againTime after time, I walk the fine line

Something keeps bringing me back

And time after time, I'm going in blind

I don't know which way I need to goFeels like your world is caving in

And I cry failing to understand, I wish I can

It's alright if you're missing him

In his eyes you can live again, free within Time after time, I walk the fine line

Something keeps bringing me back

And time after time, I'm going in blind

Don't know which way I need to goTime after time, I walk the fine line

Something keeps bringing me back

But time after time, I can't see the signs

I don't know which way I need to goDo all these roads lead me back to you?

(Count on nothing)

I don't know which way I need to go

(Count on nothing)

Do all these roads lead me back to you?

(Count on nothing)

I don't know which way I need to goOne day

Some dayTime after time, I walk the fine line

Something keeps bringing me back

And time after time, I'm going in blind

I don't know which way I need to goTime after time, I walk the fine line

Something keeps bringing me back

And time after time, I can't see the signs

Do all these roads lead me back to you? Time after time

Do all these roads lead me back to you? One day
