

Good Friends, Bad Habits (Demo)

Owen

I've good friends with bad habits
what am I to do?
literary romantics
they fuck like Wilde and indulge like Hemingway
I've good friends with bad habits and a tenancy towards negligence just petty thieves and addicts that don't hurt anyone but they'll burn anyway
Well sometimes, like every time a train passes, I get jealous of the long nights and blurred lights
the red eyes
the bar fights
where in the hell am I, and how did I get here?
with one shoe, and which way to the nearest train?
Sometimes, like every time she breathes,
I embrace my routine

Songwriters

MICHAEL KINSELLA
Published by Lyrics Â© BUG MUSIC

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>