

Over and Over

Good Old War

This is the last time
This time I know I'm done
I have a purpose
That's what I tell myself

Oh, sometimes I try to think that you are something I don't need
I try to tell myself you're gone if it's the day before you leave
Then I'm sure that you'd come back if I could offer you some change
I'd have to promise you, but I can't promise you

I'm sure you'll have some big plans if I just go
Move to the west coast
See something else for once

Oh, sometimes I try to think that you are something I don't need
I try to tell myself you're gone if it's the day before you leave
Then I'm sure that you'd come back if I could offer you some change
I'd have to promise you, but I can't promise you

Ahhh, ahhh, ahhh

Over and over
It hasn't weathered so
You're better off alone

Oh, sometimes I try to think that you are something I don't need
I try to tell myself you're gone if it's the day before you leave
Then I'm sure that you'd come back if I could offer you some change
I'd have to promise you, but I can't promise you

Ahhh, ahhh, ahhh

Over and over
It hasn't weathered so
You're better off alone

Lyrics submitted by Emma Peach.