

Let Me Give the World To You

Smashing Pumpkins

Last chance to make believe in always and all it seems
Train wrecks hide underneath your umbrella
Accept a frame
Destiny and on first name soliloquy
Tired symphonies play down on Let me give the world to you, my love
Let me give the world to you, my love
Let me show what I'm thinking of
Let me give the world to you my love And I wouldn't change a thing oh no
No, I wouldn't change a thing
About the way you are
Distance here to speak so far, so far Lovers with dead excuse
Blur the line with soul abuse
Lonesome hearts just have no use right here The new skin holds us in
As the old skin turns us on
Flicker-fade but not trade down to end Let me give the world to you, my love
Let me give the world to you, my love
Times are hard and we're the last in line
'Cause in my grief, I've forgotten what was mine And I wouldn't change a thing
No, I wouldn't change a thing
About the way you are
Distance here to speak so far, so far Let me give the world to you, my love
Let me give the world to you, my love
Let me give the world to you, my love
Let me give the world to you, my love
