I thought I do it when the time was right wrong
Now ya loving someone else and you're living in his arms
And it's time to move on but wait what do I do without my other half
Pick up the pieces all sad like a broken glass
You're my soulmate I knew if from the first day
I called you bae when we went on our first date
Yea and I hope you remember cause they said it wasn't true love
But we knew it was I kept messing up and couldn't get it quite right
Now I'm all by myself like a lonely night

Verse 2

Do you remember when we made love?
All the times that we fought but we made it up
Do you still have my green and white coffee cup?
What about the little dog that I gave with love
I ain't have much but you didn't care cause
We made it work we had dreams for the two of us
We were so close you couldn't separate us
We gave our middle fingers to them freaking haters

I did you wrong but you still stuck by my side
All the pain all the times that I made you cry
Broke ya heart many nights with them silly lies
I apologize bae it's about time
Man if I had another chance I would get it right I be waiting for you when it's time but if I don't here take this song please don't cry
I hope you find happiness I'ma say goodbye

Awww you looked so beautiful that day
Oh, remember Topogijo I put him in the picture box so you can see him

We slept in the car but that's love for you though
