

Dear Jamie

The Dirty Guv'nahs

and it feels like my whole world is falling apart and i dont mind dying but baby dont break my heart woke up this morning with a note in my bedroom it said i love you, but i need to think through all of the poison that you have in your heart so i ran to the sidewalk while i put on my jacket i was staring at a picture of you then i let go and the tears flowed down my armand it feels like my whole world is falling apart
and i dont mind dying but baby dont break my heart if i could take it back then i would you know i never meant to listen to all of the words in my head turns out they were lies oh and then i got addicted and i did it in front of the kids oh but when you get lost like that baby there is nowhere to hide
dont break my heart
dont break my heart
oh dont break my heart cause i dont mind dying but baby dont break my heart [guitar break] i moved in with you cause i loved you but i wanted to for some time ago dont break my heart
