Try

Crystal Shawanda

You spun that web baby, you made that bed baby
You built that brick wall that you're running into, ooh, ooh
You bare that cross baby, I pay the cost baby
Now you loose, it don't matter what you doYou can try to change me
You can say what you want with you pretty little lies
You can beg, you can plead
But you won't get to me this time, this time
But you can tryUse all the strength you got, go on take your best shot
But it won't touch me, I know I won't feel a thing
You've left me no choice baby, listen to my voice baby
I mean what I meanBut you can try to change me
You can say what you want with you pretty little lies
You can beg, you can plead
But you won't get to me this time, this time
But you can tryTry
(Try, try)
Try
(Try, try)You can try to change me
You can say what you want with you pretty little lies
You can beg, you can plead
But you won't get to me this time, this time
But you can try, you can try, yeahYou spun that web baby, you made that bed baby
You can try but you won't change my mind
No you won't change my mind
