Naive

Thomson & Ismael

you've been trying to chase me down, that's not how the world works lately you've been feeling down, it's not so easy trying to find out hopefully you'll call before the lines out need to realize that the times now Some lean won't save you when the clocks out, yeah no time for shenanigans girl, so adequate girl, stop panicking girl been you've been chasing my mind foreal (chasing my mind foreal, yeah) she down at palm springs, with her family too, yeah hopefully you'll find some man and soon, what goes on in your mind when you not there six homes, six phones but you don't care no brothers no sister to feed, no intention to give no love to need so you find yourself stuck in a situation when you're lost in yourself yeah lost in yourself so, you try to find some some help but you just can't fucking find it cause nobodys ever there for you when you actually need it, aw yeah I can understand, I can understand 'cause I been there before anybody even cared I'm the man I'm the man but probably can't be yours I'm there I'm there, but never get to close and you call me up late night all I hear is crying saying that you got kicked out, just fucking lying 'bout your ways, but you know the consequences way to fucking great Don't take it too hard we all make mistakes yeah, we all make mistakes you've been trying to chase me down, that's not how the world works lately you've been feeling down, it's not so easy trying to find out
hopefully you'll call before the lines out, need to realize that the times now Some lean we won't save you when the clocks out yeah, no time for shenanigans girl, so adequate girl, stop panicking girl, you've been chasing my mind foreal (chasing my mind foreal, yeah) yeah, should I tell what's on my mind and tell what's on my heart always thinking 'bout the end before it even start you were there, you were there, what was always missing drunk texts two am used to never listen you should stop tweeting 'bout the problems in your life Did it all for this, was it worth the sacrifice sacrificing mean consequences I know is right where did all of this begin a hell of a right I'm the man I'm the man but I don't understand what your plan what's your plan man I swear you so caught up for real I swear you so caught up foreal you've been trying to chase me down, that's not how the world works
lately you've been feeling down, it's not so easy trying to find out
Some lean we won't save you when the clocks out yeah,

no time for shenanigans girl, so adequate girl, stop panicking girl, you've been chasing my mind foreal (chasing my mind foreal, yeah)
