Umbilical

Mytra

She should have seen the thing in mother's belly
Grew up alongside her sister's [Incomprehensible]
She reached out for nourishment and falls from her mother's umbilical cord
With her sister in the wombOne day she opens her mouth wide and swallows her surroundings
The red, and orange and the sounds that's all around her
Now she was in her corner
Now she was in her cornerHer eyes closed with some kind of complete
Happiness
Some kind of complete
HappinessNow she can walk in the sunlight
With a quiet sense of relief inside
Now she walks in the sunlight
An extra feeling inside her soul, makes her cryIn her mama's belly
Opens her, sister's
One day she opens her mouth wide and swallows her surroundings
The red, and orange and the sounds all around herIn the sunlight makes it go away
Now she was in her corner
In the sunlight
Now she was in her corner, she has[Incomprehensible]Her eyes closed with some kind of complete
Happiness
Some kind of complete
HappinessNow she walks in the sunlight
With the extra feeling, inside her
Now she walks in the sunlight
With the extra feeling, inside her
Inside her

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/