

If I Told You This Was Killing Me, Would You Stop?

The Juliana Theory

Watch your mouth
Hold your tongue, boy
Because you're running out of breath
Running out of time
Before every careless word
That you utter renders you utterly useless
Now you're drowning in your own saliva
Trying to speak yourself to the top of your empty world
Well keep on talking just keep on rambling
You've got your mouth full
Listen here's the pleasant part
You and I we fell apart
Listen here's the pleasant part
You and I we fell apart
Why can't you make up your, make up your mind?
Why can't you make up your, make up your mind?
Shut your mouth
Burn your bridges
Throw your words like an attack
And stab me in the wait a second, wait a second
What's that i just heard never mind
It's obviously worthless
Now you're standing on your soapbox
Yelling from the rooftops everything you say is a lie
A lie, a lie, lie lie, yeah
Listen he's the clever one
Who speaks before his thoughts are done
Listen he's the clever one
Who speaks before his thoughts are done
Why can't you make up your, make up your mind?
Why can't you make up your, make up your mind?
Watch your mouth
Hold your tongue
Somethings are better left unsaid
Watch your mouth
(Now I hope you're pleased)
Hold your tongue
(You got your prize and tongue)
Somethings are better left unsaid
(I dance between your words)
(Right before you fall) Right before you
Why don't you
Why don't you say that to my face?
I had a rip down, torn out so many things
Everything you, every time you, every word you say

If I told you this was killing me
Would you, would you stop?
