

Liquid Time

Trey Anastasio

The sea so wide, and the boat is so small
The sun burns my skin, in this liquid time
Time is a treasure here, 'cause it flows in every direction
I know you understand, but might not recognize
That it's easier to look at things this way Though I know it was a lie that got me here
The stars at night are moving, in a heavenly dance
I can smell the rain, taste the wind, see the sail
It's not so far away Chorus
Oh, sad sad one I feel you growing dim
And the clouds disperse around me
And I know these dreams are real
Trying to recognize liquid time (2x)
(repeat chorus) Rolling, rolling, rolling, rolling
(The sea, the sea)
I know you're watching me
