

Who's in the Mirror

Nik West

[Verse]

The ways of your world don't mean much to me
Will never be conformed to the way you think[PreChorus]
For my mind has been renewed the transformation

I can clearly see

Now I know who's in the mirror looking back at me[Chorus]

For my mind is like the flowers in the spring
Blooming and renewing in beauty and peace

My heart is like a river flowing free
Embracing each moment that today may bring
You can't break my spirit you can't touch my soul
I'll still be standing after the wind blows[Verse]

What you see when you look at me
Ain't the perfect individual I strive to be
I've been supplied with everything I need
Enjoying the journey to my destiny
