

Moment's Silence

Kyshera

In this moment's silence
As the war is raging
Are we remembering
Or just forgetting something more

As the ones for whom they died
Follow in their footsteps
If they could have seen us now
Would they have turned their aim around instead

Paper flowers for sentiments as feeble
Anthems short as our memory
Coffins buried with our broken promise
That the lives they gave us were not in vain 'cos 'never again'...

In this moment's silence
We should be raging
How many times must we
See this drama before we see the truth

That the 'heroes' for the flag
As 'martyrs' for religion
Are just sacrificial Lambs
For another man's prize

Paper flowers for sentiments as feeble
Anthems short as our memory
Coffins buried with our broken promise
That the lives they gave us were not in vain 'cos 'never again'...

Lyrics submitted by Planck.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>