

Woods

Fireworks

Your sister started
Pulling her hair up
And when she pulled up next to me
I pretended the sun was in my eyes
Instead of pretending she was aloneBut I quicked a canker sore in the way
Thinking about you
everyday~
When I was young, death to me ah
And I was swallowed by a world that I don't feel a part of
By a world that I don't feel a part of anymoreThat old man stood in front of your body
And send the look wouldn't call you dead
I watched your parents write him a check
Their lips went no when, kissed your forehead.And they catch your room exactly the same
Obviously thinking about you
Everyday~
When I was young, death to me ah
And I was swallowed by a world that I don't feel a part of
By a world that I don't feel a part of anymoreSmashed several pumpkins in her drive way
That I ran through though know she lefted on your grave
It's been fifteen years
Your the reason I'm not close anybody
I really think you were then somebodyWhen I was young, death to me ah
And I was swallowed by a world that I don't feel a part of
By a world that I don't feel a part of anymore
When I was young, death to me ah
And I was swallowed up by a world that I don't feel a part of
By a world that I don't feel a part of anymoreHOLY CRA THATS SAD

Lyrics provided by <https://damnlrics.com/>