Blunt Force Trauma (Album Version)

Damageplan

I never saw whatever it was
That came and hit me from behind
Then I awoke enraged and confused
How could I have been so blindLife's escaping, don't pretend
Judgement comes, but who knows whenSo when you least expect
That's when it takes effect
A tragic twist to alter fate
Instinct is to deny
Logic does not apply
In time we learn, but it's too lateBlunt force trauma to the headBlazing through life at the speed of sound
Don't stop to look at the signs
Suddenly everything crashes around you
When we forget, life remindsClock is running, falling sand
Time is slipping through your handsSo when you least expect
That's when it takes effect
A tragic twist to alter fate
Instinct is to deny
Logic does not apply
In time we learn, but it's too lateBlunt force trauma to the head
It's too lateBlunt force traumaSo when you least expect
That's when it takes effect
A tragic twist to alter fate
Instinct is to deny
Logic does not apply
In time we learn, but it's too lateBlunt force trauma to the head
