Seasons

Said the Whale

I always thought that winter was for lovers 'cause when else is a body's warmth so warm? Underneath my clothes your hands are freezing But I dont say a word But maybe its the spring that is for lovers 'cause that is when the world comes out in bloom In the light of all the lengthening days, that still end too soon. But now I'm thinking summer is for lovers 'cause when else will we find the time to leave lay out in a field and watch out love growing and sawying in the breez But could it be the fall that is for lovers 'cause that is when the leavs get tired of being green and then they turn into others that are very rarely seen That are very rarely seen

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/