Fool

Jessica Lowndes

If only I could touch you
Feel you in my arms
If only I could hold you
Without sounding the alarm
It's only yesterday you left,
but it seems like last year, will I make it?
Is it wrong of me to feel this way?
You know my man would be betrayed
But I can't stop the way I feel when I see you
I'm such a fool for you.
I'm such a fool for you.
Oooooo
If only I could kiss you, taste your skin my love instead I only miss you despite a heart within a dove
It's only yesterday you left
but it seems like last year, will I make it?
Is it wrong of me to feel this way?
You know my man would be betrayed
But I can't stop the way I feel when I see you

I'm such a fool
Is it wrong of me to feel this way?
You know my man would be betrayed
But I can't stop the way I feel when I see you
I'm such a fool for you
I'm such a fool for you.
And I'm worried I might steal your kiss,
When I'm broken you could be my fix
But I can't cover all these lies,
No matter just how hard I try.
And I can't go another day, without you I might fade away.
You're everything that I don't say
Take my pain away.
Is it wrong of me to feel this way?
You know my man would be betrayed,

I can't stop the way I feel when I see you.
I'm such a fool
And I don't know if I can wait
At home I feel like such a fake
In my dreams I know how you fell when I'm with you
I'm such a fool for you
I'm such a fool for you
