Insignificant

Nevermore

Ours is not to question the reasons why Crippled indecision repeats the path I once denied Insignificant, am I ?
The color of sundown,of crimson sky
The beauty that breaks down
And gives the day unto the nightAnd then one day you'll realize
Just a speck in the spectrum
Insignificant,am I ?
And then one day you'll realize
The beauty that breaks down
never knows the reason whyscan my horizon as blue turns to black the sky is gone again and all beneath are born to die insignificant,am I ?And then one day you'll realize
Just a speck in the spectrum
Insignificant,am I ?
And then one day you'll realize
never knows the reason why
