

So This Is War

Medic

So this is war from the moment that i saw your eyes catch fire with the countless imitations of exploding skies, you fire away I've seen you before with my eyes closed suspended on the starry skies confusing shooting rocks for broken satellites to mask all the pain Is everything wrong? or were we right to feel this way because we stayed to long?
Hearing Heavens army sing majestic songs to send you away
It's okay because i'm shattered too
I know you looked away to enjoy the view
I know it seems to be the trouble is when you can't go back
