For a Lifetime

Haste the Day

I know you
I know who you are
I'm through with your gamesI know you
I know who you are
And I'm through with your gamesAnd ever-changing
Ever-changing faces
Let go, feel it leave your gripAnd watch it vanish in the distance
Watch it vanish in the distance
Watch it vanishForget the voices you hear
They're nothing now
They never wereForget the voices you hear
They're nothing now
They never wereIt looks warped at first
Only because of the tears
But you can still recognize
The definition in my faceWe will forever stay united
We won't back down
And we will not stop fightingWe may stand or fall
But we'll never know until we take a hand
We've been waiting for a lifetimeAnd the determination in our stride
And the, the strength
And the strength of our purposeAnd the determination in our stride
And the, the strength
And the strength of our purposeWe've been waiting for a lifetime
We won't let it pass us by
We just need to stand united
Then we will conquer this togetherThe determination in our stride
The strength of our purposeThe determination in our stride
The strength of our purposeThe determination in our stride
The strength of our purpose
