At Long Last

Brother Hawk

I can't seem to find any peace tonight.
I just can't get right,
and I'm wondering if I know where to go.
I just wish I was home,
instead of layin' here alone.
But would it really help?
Or can I do this by myself?
Do I really miss you as bad as this?
Or is it something I could get from anyone?
Cause every single time I'm having a rough night,
you're the first thing on my mind.
But could you really help?
Or can I do this by myself?
Or will I drag you down as well?
There ain't no good way to tell.
Another long night with nothing on my mind
but what I'll never have and things I can't get past.
I hope my mind can rest at long last.
Can I do this by myself?
Or will I drag you down as well?
Guess there's just one way to tell.
