She Said

Dru Hill

I tried to be the man you wanted me to be
But it just wasn't good enough
And I'm sitting down here alone, what am I to do?
She don't really wanna talk to me 'cuz she said that our love is done
She don't even wanna look my way 'cuz she said that I'm not the one
All she wanted was a faithful man who can tell her just what he felt
Now she's found love in another man, so I'm back here all by myself
She said that she would comfort you through anything
Where did she go?
She said that she would be right here, never ever leave
Where did she go?
She said that she would comfort you through anything
Where did she go?
She said that she would be right here, never ever leave
Where did she go?
I guess I'm gonna have to tell myself there'll be better things ahead
And all I have to do is think about all I had before she left
She don't really wanna live alone but she will if it brings me pain
And I don't wanna have to sacrifice my soul just to keep love the same
She said that she would comfort you through anything
Where did she go?
She said that she would be right here, never ever leave

Where did she go?
She said that she would comfort you through anything
Where did she go?
She said that she would be right here, never ever leave
Where did she go?
Like yesterday, can you believe it?
Oh, no no no 'cuz you said
She said that she would comfort you through anything
Where did she go?
She said that she would be right here, never ever leave
Where did she go?
She said that she would comfort you through anything
Where did she go?
She said that she would be right here, never ever leave
Where did she go?
She said that she would comfort you through anything

Where did she go?
She said that she would be right here, never ever leave
Where did she go?
She said that she would comfort you through anything
Where did she go?
