

Down Under

NONONO

the moon light is shown i feel our walls are cracking and were so close to fall i hear the night is calling out we are only what we feel and turning into something real moonlight breaks the crack of dawn breaking us into seperate parts on the sunlight is on i feel our shadows fading and we're so far from home i hear the morning calling out we are only what we feel yearning for something real the moonlight breaks the crack of dawn tweaking us into different parts what's that sound i hear down under is it your heart is it just thunder what's that sound i hear down under
is it your heart is it just thunder is it your heart is it just thunder and we are only what we feel yearning for something real
the moonlight breaks the crack of dawn tweaking us into different parts
