

Feeling of Falling

Bonnie Raitt

Sometimes I miss that feelin' of fallin'
Fallin' on over the ledge
You know I miss that feelin' of fallin'
Fallin' on over the ledge And when my mind it gets to worryin'
And I just can't get no rest, oh baby oh
That's when I call you up instead After midnight baby
Sittin' here all alone
I tried to call your number baby
But you weren't at home I've been a good girl baby
I'm through with all that mess
But the way I'm feeling right now, darlin'
You know it scares me half to death That I miss that feelin' of Fallin' on over the ledge The summer night in Texas, baby
It's too hot and wet to sleep
I heard you pull up in the distance
You're comin' to give me relief We went screamin' down the highway, baby
So much faster than we should
You pulled me over in the moonlight, darlin'
Man, I still can feel that hood And I miss that feelin'
Oh, I wanna fall on over the ledge
When that rain start fallin', I wanna call baby
I wanna take a real good look at that ledge It ain't something you get over
You might think you made it through
You can turn your head and walk away, baby
But it never takes its eyes off of you and It'll push your foot right through the floor board, baby
Make you cut them streamers down and back
You waste what's precious and you can't afford, baby
It runs your life right off the track It'll keep you boilin' in that poison
Only the truly twisted know so well
You don't need drugs to show you heaven, baby
'Cause there's plenty clean in hell I'd miss that feelin' of fallin'
Oh, on over the ledge
Yeah, the blues start callin'
[Incomprehensible]
Break it down [Incomprehensible] baby
Oh baby I'm gonna crawl
Crawl into your arm now
Into your arm now

Songwriters
BONNIE RAITT Published by Lyrics Â© BONNIE RAITT

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>