

So Much You Hide

A Burning Water

Fire burns me brighter than ever before water runs through these open door wanting to remain lock foreveri forgive words that you say your lies are wearing thin i forgive words that you say lets move on and leave them herelight consumes me more than you'll ever know dont speak so soft understand the beaten path you walk has over growni forgive words that you say
your lies are wearing thin
lets move on and leave them here
