Velvet Lies

David Lee Murphy

You give to me, a kiss and a whisper
My love is all you'll ever want
And I've told myself, I shouldn't listen
'Cause some words are said and then they're goneAnd those velvet lies on your lips tonight
Would be so easy to believe in
And I know this time that my hands are tied
With those velvet liesSo soft and warm, well, I can't help thinking
It could always be like this
But I know the truth is somewhere waiting
And you know, I can't resistAnd those velvet lies on your lips tonight
Would be so easy to believe in
And I know this time that my hands are tied
With those velvet liesAnd those velvet lies on your lips tonight
Would be so easy to believe in
And I know this time that my hands are tied
With those velvet liesAnd those velvet lies on your lips tonight
Would be so easy to believe in
