Look At Me

Jason Rubero

In my head you know I'm famous
They haven' seen one like me in years
The interviews and great reviews keep on coming
From the Press Corps that's between my ears

I really wanna say to you
I really wanna say to you
Say to you...

That playing in front of all these screaming millions
Is the loneliest thing I've tried
But still it's hard to leave the gleaming spotlight
But I hear your silent voice inside (saying)

"Look at me
I'm right here waiting where you always are
Can't you see?
I hung the planets, but you're my only star
Why do you love me from afar?"

I want to sit
Holding court before my fans
Instead I crawl
In pinchbeck Lotus Land
I mean everything I say (I really do)
But no one's listening anyway...

In my head I know I'm dreaming
The cheering masses have all gone home
The folding chairs are stacked and standing silent
But I hear your voice and swear I'm not alone

"Look at me
I'm right here waiting where you always are
Can't you see?
I hung the planets, but you're my only star
Why do you love me from afar?"

Lyrics Submitted by June

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/