The Future

The Drums

Here I go again Getting upset over nothing Getting upset over your heart Over your heart Over your heartAnd if I ruled the world I would make every country salute you And if I ruled the world I'd make you be mineAnd I'm always in your cage Set me free And you've locked me in your cage Set me freeHere you go again Walking away like it's nothing Walking away from my heart But I see your eyes at night And you know what's wrong And you know what's right. The future
