

Cold Hearted Woman

Rainbow

[Blackmore/White]She came from across the water

A devil's daughter was in disguise

I crid for mercy - she bound and chained me and then she played me, I was mesmerized

When she gave me blood red roses

They were wrapped in razor thorns

She was sly in her temptation

Then she left me on my own

Sutch a cold hearted woman

She promised passion everlasting

And now I'm haunted by her name

I gave up all that I ever cared for

Oh if I only had my yesterdays again

I've been blinded, now I'm broken

Sometimes I can hear her song

No man's grass was ever greener

Now I find that I don't belong

With a cold hearted woman

She touched my world and I was shaken

But she was fakin,?I never knew

These days are colder and there's no shoulder

I'm just the shell fo the man I was before

If there's somewhere I can run to

Till I kill the pain inside

I've been walking now for hours

Can't forget her, the Lord knows I've tried

Cause she's a cold, cold hearted woman
